AMATEUR BOXING BILL.

Control of the Sport Should Be Given to the A. A. U. in This State-The Base. ball Tangle-No Dates for Sullivan's Bacetrack-The Westchester Stakes.

The introduction of a bill in the Assembly to legalize boxing by amateurs in this State has caused widespread interest among local followers of the manly art. Last year when Assemblyman Brooks of Buffaio introduced a similar bill it was blocked chiefly because difference between an amateur and a sponsor for the new measure, will adopt every means to make the discrimination clear. James E. Sullivan, Secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, which is directly involved in the bill now before the Solons involved in the bill now before the solons at Albany, said yesterday that he would endeavor to bring all possible influence to bear in order to help the bill to a successful passage. at Albany, said yesterday that he would endeavor to bring all possible influence to bear in order to help the bill to a successful passage. He said that he would provide Assemblyman Dooling with facts and figures to show the universal demand for amateur boxing and also to convince the Legislature that the A. A. U stands ready to enforce every requirement of the bill if it becomes a law.

"Boxing by amateurs," said Secretary Sullivan, "is narmless and is also free from semial it is a healthful pastime indulged in by thousands of young Americans. The amateur tournaments held in the past have been of general interest and have developed some of the best iboxers in America to-day. Boxing is a part of the physical culture programme at every athletic club of prominence in the United States. Nearly all of these clubs are under the jurisdiction of the A. A. U. which means that the sport is conducted on sportsmanlike lines and is not in any way open to noverse criticism. The bill just introduced by Assemblyman Dooling will lave the undivided support of the A. A. U. and also lovers of boxing in all parts of the country."

But ere is no apparent way to draw the line between amateurs and professionals unless it can be stipulated that the A. A. U. shall have absolute control of the sport. If power should be given to the A. A. U. to license can and boxers there would be little chance get around the law. Otherwise it is believe hat, with no controlling body, clubs would soon be ringing in second rate professionals as simon pure amateurs. There would be no way of finding out whether a boxer re-reived a medal in the open for a victory and wad of money on the side for his services. The A A U. boxing rules have been tried nd to be humane in the extreme Knock-cuts are practically impossible, for a knock down ends a round and a referee te expected to interfere the moment a con-testant appears to have no chance. With tae A. A. U. in control it would be impossible for irresponsible promoters and fig-by-night clubs to get into the game with contests

But clubs such as the New York A. C., the Rnickerbocker A. C., the Pastime A. C. and others of recognized standing could promote tournaments where clean sport would prevail. Amateur boxing, as a rule, does not bring out the big sluggers, but develops the pantams, feathers, light and welterweights In these classes there is very little brutality and plenty of fast, exciting work. Amateurs ere ambitious, and a championship tourna-ment under these circumstances and conditions would probably attract long entry lists as well as drawing paying patronage from the many ring followers here who have been auxious for a revival of glove contests

The report has been revived that Timothy D Sullivan's new racetrack at Jamaica is to receive dates for eighteen racing days this year, after all; that the Jockey Club has decided to make room for the track by asking the other racing associations to give up enough days to make a new allotment of dates possible, and that in this way trouble will be averted. While the officials of the Jockey Club would not talk yesterday, it was said that they had no idea of changing the list of racing dates already made public, which did not provide for Sullivan's track Sullivan stated some time ago that he did not intend to ask for dates until next year, inasmuch as the new track could not be completed until the middle of the summer. As the other racing associations have begun to make arrangements for their respective programmes, it is hardly possible that there will be a change. The Washington Jockey Club has asked to be allowed to open the apring meeting at Bennings on March 24, instead of on March 27, but this has little significance, as the racing season in this State does not open before April 18.

Jimmy Michael, the bicyclist, has again decided to become a jockey. It is said that the Midget has made arrangements to go to France in March and ride for the De Bray & Charon stables, which are under the management of George Cook, the English trainer. Michael is not in the best of health and his trainer. Tom Eck, says that he will never ride a wheel again.

Ice tennis is the latest winter sport in Canada. The first public game will be played in the Victoria Rink, Montreal, to-morrow. It is the regular game of tennis played on skates and society has taken it up.

NEWS OF THE HARNESS HORSES. Cresceus Not to Take Part in Matches, but May Race Against Time.

George H. Ketcham is not in the East to make matches for the champion Cresceus, 2:02%, but on an entirely different mission. The great horse went into winter quarters on Friday last at Ketcham Farm, Tolodo, Ohic, after quite the most extended speed-exhibiting tour made by a latter-day celebrity, and will be in the stud the entire sea-son. After his partial let-up Mr. Ketcham son. After his partial let-up Mr. Retcham states that he may give another preparation to him, hoping to lower his record yet another notch. Probably either Cleveland, Lexington, Terre Haute or Columbus tracks will be tested, should he come to the wire for a further trial against 'time," but he will not be entered in any races during 1902.

Turfmen generally fear that 2:02½ is Cresceus's 'mark for life' and do not expect him to tree to fast again. Mr. Ketcham, howceus's "mark for life" and do not expect him to trot so fast again. Mr. Ketcham, however, has every confidence in his horse's ability to trot to a record of 2:01% or 2:02 and does not want to lose a year with both The Abbot, 2:03%, and Lord Derby, 2:06%, out for lower records this year.

LOSING DAY FOR THE TALENT.

ONLY TWO FAVORITES WIN AT NEW ORLEANS.

Owner Finn Engineers a "Killing" With Ogle-Fight Between Steeplechase Jockey and Owner Adds Variety to the Sport-Ida Ledford a Surprise.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16 -- W. W. Finn, the well-known St. Louis turfman, made a regular "killing" with Ogle in the third race this afternoon. Ogle was backed from 20 to 1 down to 4 to 1. There was a long delay at the post, due principally to Hopedale's bad conduct. This colt ran away for a mile before the start. Crescent City broke in front, but Ogle assumed command before the end of the first quarter. He opened up a gap of four lengths at the head of the tretch and won ridden out by a length from the fast-closing Lady Alberta, who beat The Hoyden six lengths for the place. The time of the winner was within half a second of the track record.

Jockey Otis to-day filed a petition with Jockey Otis to-day filed a petition with the stewards asking for permission to ride for James Arthur only. The matter was taken under advisement by the stewards. Otis was suspended for the balance of the meeting for a questionable ride on Boomerack last month. Jockey Dade was signed by G. C. Bennett of Memphis to-day to do his lightweight riding next summer. Bennett has Jockey Coburn, who is the best boy here, under contract. Tichenor & Co., the big Chicago racing firm, announced to-day that they will race on the metropolitan tracks, and not in Chicago.

Steeplechase Jockey Ellison and Owner Riley, who has the steeplechaser Mr. Ross here, had a fight this morning on the outside of the track. The public had another losing day, as only two favorites managed to win. A sale was being held in the paddock to-day before the races. Nine horses were sold, bringing an average of $00 a head.

The surprise of the afternoon occurred in the seven-furiong race in which Ida Ledford, 20 to 1, bent out Andes and Semicolon by a head on the post. In the first race Poyntz was favorite, but Weird won easily from Ben Frost. Kingstelle the choice in the second, won in a gallop. Eva Rice, the favorite in the fifth race, beat Cast Iron by a short head. St. Wood, at 4 to 1, won the closing event in a drive from Ecome, the favorite. Summaries:

FRANK ERNE IN FIGHTING VEIN. PROGRESS OF POULTRY SHOW.

Will Defend Championship Against Gans, Ferns and Lavigne. BUFFALO, Jan. 16 .- Frank Erne has returned to town after a long visit abroad, brimful of fight. This morning he plunged into the thick of it and practically matched himself with three of the best men of his weight in the world. The men selected by the light-weight champion, against whom he will shortly de-fend his honors, are Joe Gans, Rube Ferns and "Kid" Lavigne. This morning Erne atand "Kid" Lavigne. This morning Erne attached his signature to articles of agreement, matching himself against Joe Gans. The contest will take place before the Pennsylvania Athletic Club in Philadelphia on the night of Feb. 10. He agreed to similar matches with Ferns and Lavigne and said he would meet them two weeks apart, after he finished with Gans, provided he wins.

Erne will begin preliminary training for the three matches to-morrow. He said he would condition himself carefully for the bouts and expected to win all three by knockouts.

Martin Julian, the matchmaker of the Philadelphia club which desires Fitzsimmons's services, said yesterday to THE SUN reporter that he believes that Fitzsimmons will surely meet Choynski. He further declared that he has been assured by Jim Jeffries that the champion will meet some good man at Philadelphia before his match with Sharkey or Fitzsimmons, if one is made, is decided. Of course, such a "go" will be for only six rounds.

MIMIC COCK FIGHT ON THE ROOF OF MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.

Pheasants of Rare Plumage and a Fox Added to the Exhibits -List of the Breeds on View -Mr. Keasbey Brings Out a Blue Langshan -Special Awards

A red fox, well secured in a cage where it feigned sleep with an eye on the plump pigeons in the next coop, and a dozen hand-some pheasants, were new additions to the medley of attractions at the New York Poul-try, Pigeon and Pet Stock Association's show yesterday at Madison Square Garden. The pheasants were from Long Island and in-cluded the silver, golden, Reeves and Lady Amhorst varieties Their coop is shaded with hemlock boughs, for the birds of gorgeous plumage are so shy that they fret in the glare and bustle of the show.

An unusual incident of the day was the outcome of the judging in one of the classes.

for pit games. The owner of a cock placed third thought his bird was a better specimen than the one that got the blue ribbon. The two owners had a hot argument, and the owners carried their gamey pets to the roof garden, where, in the presence of a select party, the birds were pitted together.

Neither bird was clipped nor spurred, and as far as harming each other went, the battle was as innocent as a mill with soft gloves. But the birds buffeted each other lustily and brought out all the tricks of the old-time sport. They were only allowed to spar for five minutes and then without a scratch they were carried back to their cages. To the joy of the "kicker" and his friends the referee awarded the fight to their bird, for the blue ribbon bird could not fight up to its flue feathers.

Talk of sales was heard on every side. One somewhat out of the common run was the disposal by Valley Farm, the one the college boys run, of $500 worth of Houdans, Plymouth Rocks and Faverolles for export to the Philippines. It is still a mooted point how Ameri-can-raised fowl will thrive there and the sale was made on the understanding that careful reports were to be forwarded about the way the shipment comes out. On landing, the consignment is to be turned into one big pen, to get acquainted and to wear off the effects of the long journey. Then they will be di-vided up into small families and sent off to different parts of the islands. Something new in poultry are the blue Langshans entered by Rowland P. Keasbey, which have the right conformation and plumage inda beautiful, and new shade of color. He has long been an amateur fancier of Langshans, bantams, pigeons and spaniels, and, as a genternan farmer, can afford to breed a new strain as a hobby.

The standard breeds of course have the greater following from all who keep poultry, whether a suburbanite or a market provider, but the new strains even if they never become standard are of value as educators.
